Year 9 Curriculum Implementation Plan (ENGLISH) AUGUST 2020

	WRITING	READING	READING	WRITING	READING	WRITING
	NON-FICTION	NOVEL	SHAKESPEARE	NON-FICTION	POETRY	CREATIVE WI
Half-term	Autumn – 1.1	Autumn – 1.1	Spring – 2.1	Spring – 2.2	Summer – 3.1	Summer – 3.
Scheme of Learning	Travel Writing (SB) 18 lessons into Novel "Coram Boy" by Jamilla Gavin (CD)	"Coram Boy" by Jamilla Gavin (CD)	Shakespeare "The Merchant of Venice" (RC/VW)	Shakespeare stimulus for non-fiction writing SPEECH (VW)	Diversity poetry Modern poetry (DW)	Sherlock Holi for creative v
Curriculum content	In this exciting travel writing unit, we use a plethora of travel writing extracts, both modern and antiquated, as stimulus for writing non-fiction for a variety of purposes: to inform, to entertain, the describe. The unit of travel is intended to broaden their horizons and ambitions. Using a collection of non- fiction texts, pupils explore the ways writers convey ideas to their audiences and practise different ways to respond to these texts.	We explore the historical context of this challenging novel to help explain the characters and plot of this powerful novel from other cultures. We continue to develop writing to analyse and explore.	We explore the plot structure, characters and contexts of the play and respond analytically to this more complex Shakespearean comedy with a main plot and a sub plot and more sustained disguise.	Using a variety of topical and stimulating speeches, we explore the conventions of a number of non-fiction speech forms and purposes and practise using these in real-world scenarios. The aim here is to develop, not only planning and writing skills, but also the pupils' awareness of the power of speech in the world around us. The focus for writing in the transition scheme in Y7 was letters to the pupils' primary school. Therefore speeches at the end of KS3 will allow pupils to explore the conventions and features of these forms of writing.These forms of writing are part of a tool kit that we aim to equip each pupil to master in their time at the school to enable them to express their views and opinions confidently and competently.	Using poetry from other cultures, we examine the way writers use language and structure to convey their ideas about sensitive issues.	Using a selec by Sir Arthur as a Launchp writing, this of on structure the notion of engaging the
Curriculum	In this travel writing unit,	We bring together	Reading analysis is further	Focus on issues such as	Taking pupils through poetry	In this half-te
Intent	students will once again	enhanced analytical skills in	developed here with the	relationships with parents,	from the introduction in Year	is on creative return to non-fiction	this final full class reader of	enhancing of analytical style	friends, lovers and	7 to the specific historical	imaginative v writing. The focus is two-	KS3 through exploration of	in response to the	confidantes can be	period of WW1 in Year 8 and	developing a fold: to develop their skills	characters, setting and	Shakespearean stimulus.	explored powerfully. We	now onto diversity is an	different skil in fulfilling the conventions	plot. The text's topics are a	Both extract response and	can use key scenes as a	effective way to develop	punctuation of these forms and to	useful springboard for	essay responses are	stimulus to discuss and	understanding of other	enhance the develop their creativity and	discussion about moral	generated. Complex	eventually write non-	cultures within and without	narrative wri expression in writing with	values, personal conduct,	structural features and plot	fiction responses to	Britain. It opens a discussion	purpose of th the thread of identity. This	hypocrisy, poverty,	devices are explored	contemporary problems in	about differences and	is to develop

WRITING 3.2
olmes stimulus e writing (VW) ection of stories ur Conan Doyle hpad for creative is unit focuses re and embeds of hooking and he reader.
-term the focus ive and e writing, g a range of kills from in to structure to ne quality of vriting. The this Doyle unit op the pupils' unit will focus on developing vocabulary, use of figurative language and structure, all of which will help students to better express themselves in future life. The unit here at this stage of the course will	education and the effects on our lives, amongst plenty of others. The challenge of this text in terms of its complexity enables the exploration of narrative perspective and reader responses through	carefully in this dramatic work. Exploration of historical context and literary developments provide cultural awareness.	Britain today. Writing focuses are on real world forms and topics, providing chances to reinforce the reasons behind our work and highlight universal and timeless issues. Building on their knowledge of formal	similarities, allowing us to explore misunderstandings and misconceptions. This excites pupils as we discuss their own places in our multi-cultural society. Broadening pupils' awareness of the wider	autonomy a writers. The creatively is pupils' deve individuals, best to expr and control work.

	encourage discussion and engagement with current topics around travel writing, allowing students to build their personal opinions and widen their world view. Moving forward pupils will need to articulate their views in many areas of their lives and, whilst the topic here is travel, we teach pupils to outline and convey their views effectively and with evidence to support them – a key life skill.	the narrative changes and time shifts in the different parts. Symbolism is particularly significant. Contextual knowledge and understanding is vital. The historical nature of this text is impotant for study at this stage in the pupils' journey through English and the racially broader nature of the text is an excellent springboard into the key theme of race in "The Merchant of Venice" and porms form other cultures in summer 1.The adult themes of this book was be distressing and it is right that this text is placed at the end of the Key Stage due to the maturity required.		features of non-fiction writing. Taking a different thematic approach, we explore how Shakespeare's plays are still relevant today and we write in non-fiction forms. Through the lens of a chosen themes we use the play as a stimulus to write in non-fiction forms to argue a case. Themes include the position of women, fate and destiny, family relationships, romantic love, justice, racism, gender, power and loyalty. Looking specifically at how language is used to refer and present to different groups of people – focus on stereotypes and issues! We focus on writing to persuade linked to issues in the text. Gender? Disguise? Deceit? Justice?	world through poems about far flung and not so faraway places is a key aspect of this module. This term focuses on structuring writing and planning snapshots are used to develop pupils' ability to see discourse structures and the effect they have on the quality of their writing.
Core Skills	=Exploration of different forms: leaflets, website,	=Exploration of pre twentieth century	=Thematic development in interpreting Shakespearean	Quality of mercy? =Explore different speeches and evaluate	=Evaluate the impact of context on poem's	=To use Doy withholding
KS2 Links KS4 Links	travel writing, travelogue, letters, role of the documentary	challenging Novel. =Close textual analytical skills within context of	play. =Progression to full analytical essay whole play.	their success – apply skills learned. =Analysing linguistic and	theme/message =Judge the effect of poet's choice of diction and	model for or writing. =Exploration
	 Apply SPITE for evaluation to stimulus and to own writing. Increase sophistication of argument and content. Structuring and crafting non-fiction writing to impact on reader. Write to match purpose and organise effectively. 	novel as a whole. Read, understand, analyse and interpret texts. Show understanding of the relationships between texts and their contexts. =Communicate clearly and cohesively. =To explore symbolism, ethics and morals, ideas	 =Critical skills and higher order thinking =Develop skills how to revise a Literature text. =Dramatic presentations and explorations of play. =Skills of performance and interpretation of dramatic devices. 	structural features. =Write to match purpose, audience and form considering structure / style PAFS. =Writing speeches to argue, persuade and advise: different intent =Explore rhetoric using range of vocabulary and	structure: SMILE =To develop synthesis skills by comparing two poems. =Exploring unique contexts of two different poems to develop skills of comparing and contrasting. =Structuring a comparative essay using the language of critical analysis.	 Exploration twentieth ce Literature =Craft writin devices. =Create writin punctuation types for effi =Engage read creative task

y and skill as The power to write y is necessary for evelopment as Is, learning how xpress themselves rol their written

Doyle's ing and twists as a r own imaginative

tion of pre h century riting using literary writing that uses ion and sentence effect. reader through task.

	=Accurate spelling,	about power and abuse of		=Develop skills of cohesive	sentence structures for		=Emphatic use of punctuation and grammar.	power, society and		essay writing: structuring	clarity and effect. Apply.	Read, understand, analyse	paragraphs and strue =Write cohesively and	leadership, ideology and		argument.	=Make sure spelling and	and interpret texts. Show legibly.	the suffering of those on		=Interpreting character and	punctuation is accurate.	understanding of the the periphery of society.		theme through dramatic	=Select / amend	relationships between texts features: Dramatic Irony.	/manipulate tone for	and the contexts.
				=Analysis of plot structure-	different purposes and	Communicate clearly and main plot and sub plot.	audiences.	imaginatively
				=Analysis blank verse and	=Apply SPITE for
			1 1	prose.	evaluation.
				=Hone analytical skills for	=Create your own version
			1 1	essay response using PEACH	of a key speech to resonate
				=Understand relationship	in a different context.
				between text and the	=Paragraphing for effect context.	=Choice of diction to make =Evaluative responses with	meaning emphatic line of argument.	=Persuasion argument and rhetoric
					=Standard English
					=Pathos, ethos, logos
					=Language of a public
					figure, classical roots of public speaking
Main	Persuasive writing - Visit my	Reading task critical		Literature essay- critical	Persuasive writing non-	Critical response to	Creative writing Assessment	favourite place.	analysis of "Coram Boy"		analysis essay using PEACH	fiction task SPEECH	Literature- Unseen poetry	Write the opening to on theme / character MOV.	WRITING	task comparison of 2 poems	detective story?
					Writing for purpose: to	connected by theme	Recreative task?
					persuade argue advise		Write extra chapter?
							Scene?
-			+				Write twist in the tal
Cross	Geography diverse stimulus	History English class	1 1	RE Anti-Semitism. Business	Appreciation of gender	Geography diversity of	History Victorian cor curricular	travel writing sources	structure and orphanages		moneylending and interest –	issues in Shakespearean	poetry collection.	Sherlock Holmes.
		contemporaneously to this		pound of flesh	context and now.		PSHE use of opium.
		story		Classics-pathos, ethos, logos	SMSC stereotpyes use of s and structure.

riting
opening to a story?
task?
a chapter?
h in the tels 2
t in the tale?
torian context
olmes. of opium.
n opium.				