

Important Notice Regarding Year 11 Reports

Please note that all of the information included in this report was entered by staff prior to the Christmas break. None of the recent announcements had been anticipated at that time and, as such, it is important that none of the data included in this report is interpreted as a 'final grade'. The information certainly provides an indication of what teachers believe that your child is on track to achieve for their final grade based on the evidence available to them, however, none of the grades are final and were entered on the assumption that final exams would go ahead as planned. As further announcements are made over the coming days regarding the plans for grading GCSEs this year, we will of course update you further.
