

Year 11

Component 1 : Exploring the Performing Arts

Roles Within Theatre		Acting styles and Genres		Creative stylistic qualities
Actor or Performer Director	Actors or Performers are people who entertain an audience by acting, singing or dancing. They play characters on stage or screen and work with the direction of the creative team to bring a piece of theatre to life. Theatre directors have responsibility for the practical and creative interpretation of a dramatic script. They work closely with creative and production teams, performers and the producer to create a performance which connects with the audience	Absurdism Classical Comedy Commedia dell'arte Epic Forum theatre	Melodrama Naturalism Symbolism Theatre of cruelty Verbatim Physical theatre	Treatment of theme/issue Production elements Form/structure/narrative Response to stimulus Style/genre Contextual influences Collaboration with practitioners
Production Designer	Production designers are responsible for the visual concept of a theatre production. They identify a design style for sets, graphics, props,	Responsibilities and Skills of Practitioners	Influences by other practitioners. Purpose and its influence on stylistic qualities lighting, and costumes, while working closely with the director and producer	Responsibilities Rehearsing	Skills Physical	to educate to inform
Stage Manager	Stage managers typically provide practical and organisational support to the director, actors, designers, stage crew and technicians throughout the production process. They also are the director's representative during performances, making sure that the production runs smoothly	Performing Contributing to the creation and development of performance material, For example Devising Designing	Vocal Management Communication Directing Performing Designing Organisational	to entertain to provoke to challenge viewpoints to raise awareness to celebrate
Playwright	A playwright is the person responsible for writing dramatic material for the purposes of performance within the theatre. The script is the blueprint for creating a dramatic production. A script for a play is the road map to creating a successful and complete theatrical production.			Droduction process
Processes used in development, rehearsal and performance		 Choreographing Directing 		Rehearsal
Responding to stimulus to generate ideas for performance/design material Exploring and developing ideas to develop material o discussion with performers/designers Setting tasks for performers/designers Sharing ideas and intentions Teaching material to performers (if applicable) Developing performance material/designs and outcomes Organising and running rehearsals/production process Refining and adjusting material to make improvements Providing notes and/or feedback on improvements		Writing Refining performance material Managing self and others		Production Technical rehearsal Dress rehearsal Performance Post-performance Evaluation/review.